An exchange tells of a lady who decided to scare her husband, who was quite a bard drinker, so he would reform. To this end she procured the costume of a devil she had worn in a masquerade. The next time the erring sponse came home feeling happy, she quickly doned the costume. As he opened the door she stepped forward and said mepcotral tonce: "Come in with me, I am the devil." The result rather startled her, as the response that greeted her was: "Zateo! Shake of boy; I'm your brother-in-law. I married your sister."

SEPTEMBER NUMBER NEW IDEA WOMAN'S MAGA-ZINE.

An article on 'The Modern Nurery," by Mildred K. Smith, and the fourth number of "Perdita's Problems," by Alice Chittenden, 178 . are to be the features of special interest in the September number of the New Idean Woman's Magazine. These two papers are of interest value to all home makers in their practical suggestions and helpfulners. Both are potographically illustrated. Miss Cory's articles on "Physical Culture" are letters written out of the sound knowlege of long experience in her special line of work, and may be depended upon as absolutely reliable in every detail. These articles are illustrated in such a way as to illuminate the spacific directions given in the text. "Fashe ion Shirt-waiste" and "Neckties in Men's Wear' are feature articles in the fashion department, which is to be enlarged henceforward by the addition of another color plate.

Francisco Call. BEWARE OF MISJUDGING.

Perhaps it were better for most understood and to take more care that we do not minunderstand other people. It ought to give us pause at times to remember that each one has a stock of cut-and-dry judgments on his neighbors, and that the chapces are that most of them are quite erroneous. What our neighbor really is we may never know, but we may be pretty certain that he is not what we have imagined, and othat many things we have thought of him are quite beside the mark. The mere surface of his character may be exposed, but of the complexity within we have not the faintest ides. People crammed with self-consciousness and self-conceit are often praised as humble, while shy and reserved people are judged to be proud. Some whose whole life is one subtle, studied selfishness get the name of selfsacrifice, and other silent heroic souls are cordemned for want of bumanity.

Speaking of girls I would say, girls don't get too guy. Don't bang around the streets every night looking for some fellow to take you home. Don't walk around block after blook in the sity every night to see if you can catch on to something. Don't do it. It won't pay you. No respectable young man looks for a wife on the street perners. Spend your evenings at home or in good company some to hunt up young girls. They don't mended for getting out such a like the ones they find around the streets, they come too easy. They week or so they say the same thing ike them better when they have about some other newsparper and the some bard work to get them. Just think those things over, girls, and Public Opinion.

It is for a system on the forest reserves under the control of the United States govern ment, and his idea is to construct an automatic service which will give the fismes or excessive heat. Professor Willis Moore, chief of the westher bureau, will go to the Black Hills reservation to make a thorough examination of the country and report on the proposition. There is a gift of flattery among certain newspapers in the State that fall-like a "boss chestnut" in the pratee of their exchanges. There are a certain class of editors who continually use the tame, threadbare expression: "The Bonton Bludgett is the neatest, newsiest looking for a wife he will hunt you and best paper in the State, and its editor, Mr. Highball, is to be comsuch deceptive stereotype parathink those things over, girls, and then out them out. - Watertown Register.
